Welcome! McLaren Park, the second largest park in San Francisco, was named for John McLaren, the superintendent of Golden Gate Park from 1867 to 1943. Miles of paved and unpaved trails wind through the park, many of them built during the Depression by the Works Progress Administration. You can hike through a variety of habitats, both native and introduced, including forests, grasslands, and marshy riparian areas, where springs feed Yosemite Creek.

Enjoy your stay, Go Out and Play, and please take your trash away!

Share your favorite discoveries online - See below.

THIS SIGN WAS MADE OUT OF SALVAGED MATERIALS!

You are here

Use your smart phone to learn more about our network of urban trails

www.sfrecpark.org